Brief Industrial Profile of Begusarai District

1. General Characteristics of the District

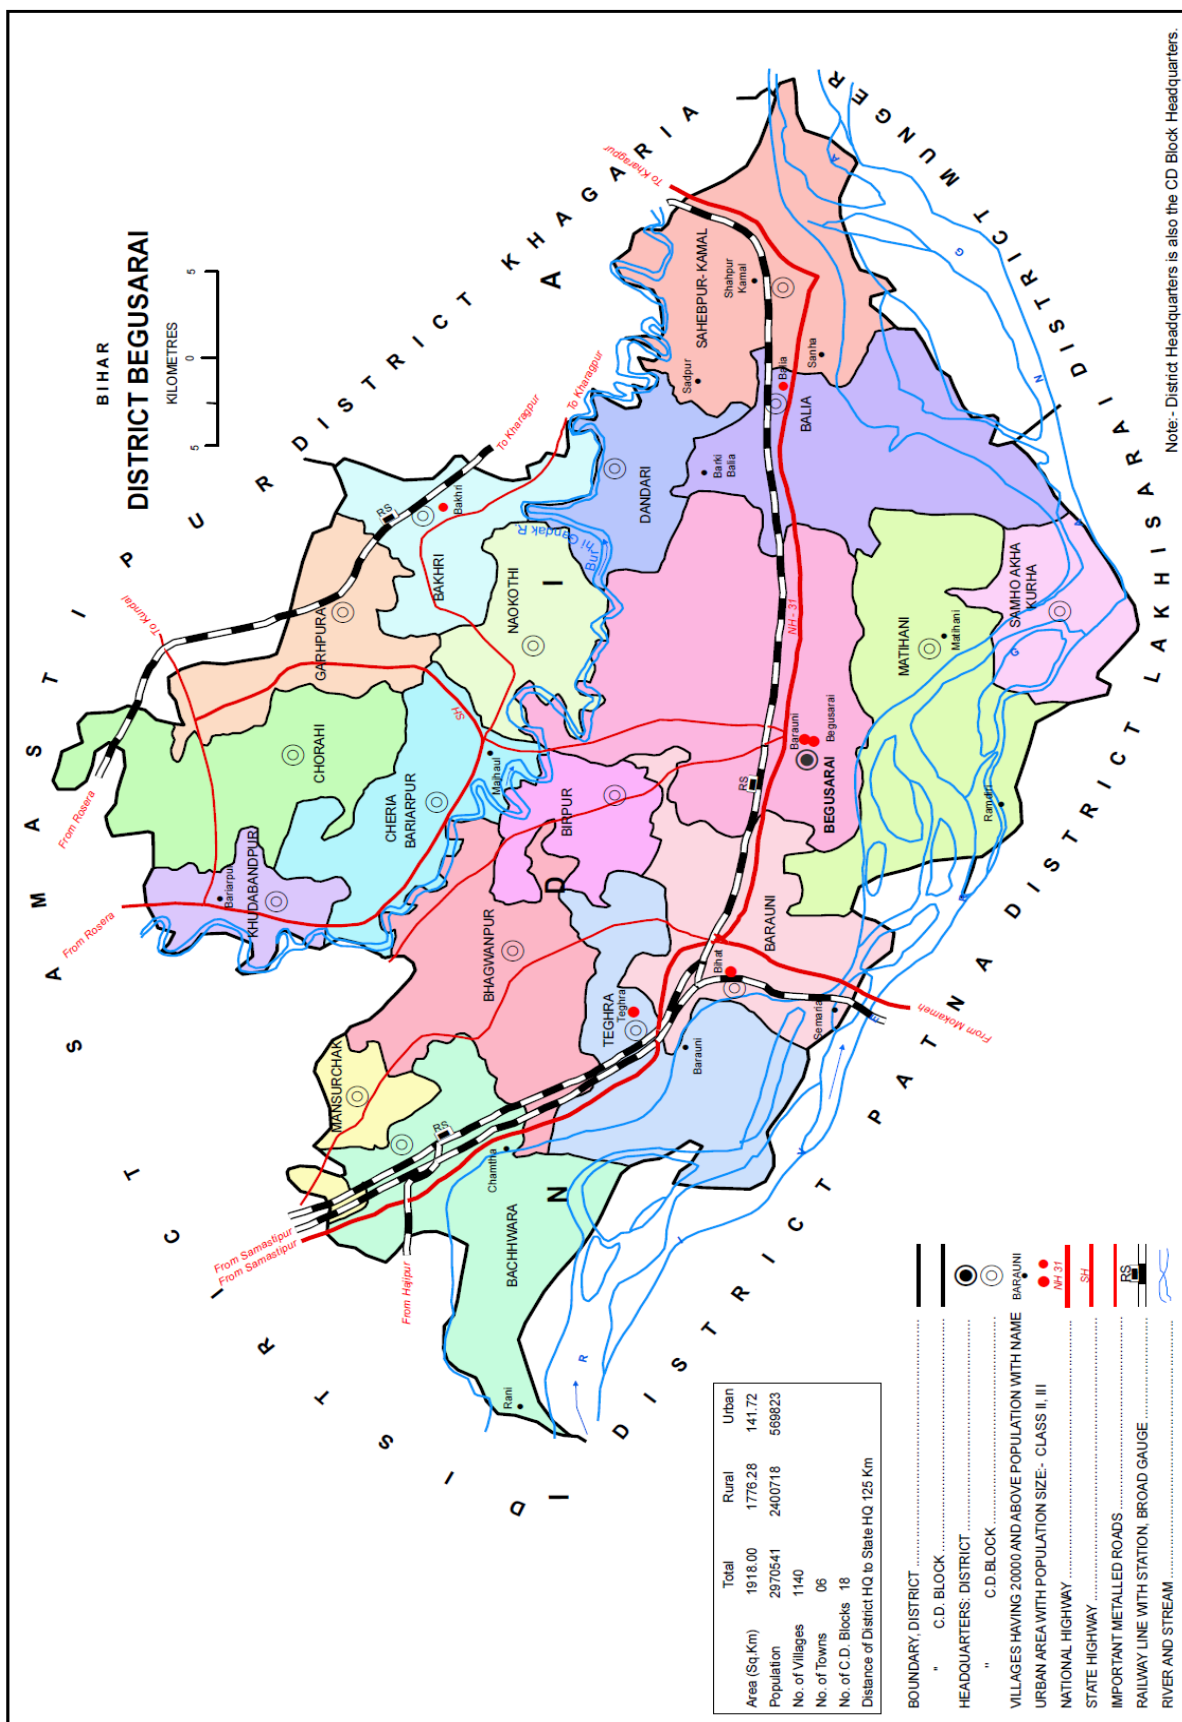

Begusarai is one of the thirty-eight districts in the state of Bihar. The district lies on the northern bank of the Ganga River. As an old saying, the name of the district apparently comes from “Begum” (queen) and “Sarai” (inn). The Begum of Bhagalpur used to visit “Simaria Ghat” (holy place on the banks of the Ganges) for a month of pilgrimage, which later took to the slang of Begusarai. Begusarai was established in 1870 as a subdivision of Munger District. In 1972, it was given district status.

1.1 Location & Geographical Area

Begusarai district occupies an area of 1918 square kilometer. The district lies on the northern bank of river Ganges. The Begusarai district is a part of Darbhanga division. It is located at latitudes 25 degree 15 minute north to 25 degree 45 minute North and longitude 85 degree 45 minute east to 86 degree 36 minute East. It is bounded on the north by Samastipur, on the south by the Ganga and the lakhisarai district, on the east by Khagaria and Munger and on the west by Samastipur and Patna district. Begusarai is the part of Darbhanga Division.

1.2 Topography

District Begusarai lies in the middle part of the north Ganga plain. In general, it is low flying flat terrain (MSL 45m-32m) having a southerly to southeasterly slope. This factor governs the flow of streams. Geomorphologically it is a part of the Gandak-Kosi interfluvies. The southern part of the district, except those of low lying flood plains of Ganga, appears to be elevated landmass when compared to the adjoining district of Khagaria and Samastipur. Hence, being a safer destination amidst the flood drained region, it supports human activity in a better way. The district is drained by number of rivers viz. Ganga, Burhi Gandak, Bagmati and Balan rivers and in addition, small rivulets, dhars, nalas which are originated locally and preserve rain water, mark the landscape.

1.3 Climatic Conditions

In summer the climate of the district is hot and dry but winter months are quite cool and pleasant. Winter comes towards the middle of October after the rains are over. The temperature begins to fall and January is the coldest month of the year with mercury falling to about 8°C. The blowing of westerly wind accompanied by dust storms about the middle of March marks the beginning of hot weather. The mercury starts shooting upward and May is the hottest month of the year when the maximum temperature goes up to 42°C. The summer continues till the end of June when the onset of rains brings the much awaited relief and the temperature falls, though the humidity is still high the rise in humidity often makes the heat only more oppressive during the rainy season which lasts till the end of September. From November to February the district has a pleasant climate. The district also gets some winter rain.

1.4 Availability of Minerals:

The district is rather poor in the field of mines and minerals. The land mainly consists of old or recent deposits of alluvium.

1.5 Forest

There is no area of the district under forest leaving 63 sq.km i.e. the area of Kanwarjheel Wildlife Sanctuary. Begusarai district does not comprise of any forest. In contrast to the eastern portions of the old district of Munger, this district lying south to the Ganga does not comprise of any forest of sal and other large trees. At most of the places, there are gardens of mango and litchi. Chakmuzaffar a village of Naokothi block is famous for banana. Apart from these, Babul, Neem, Guava, Lemon, Gamahar, Peepal, Bamboo, shirish are also found. Shisham is one of the most important ones of them. Wild animals are scarcely found in this district. However, birds are seen in large numbers in various colours, particularly in the bird sanctuary of Kaver Lake. Till now 59 types of birds from abroad and 107 types of birds from home have been recognized here.

1.6 Electricity and Power

The district receives its entire power supply from Barauni Thermal Power Station, Bihar State Electricity Board. With the constitution of the State Electricity Board and the channelization of the D.V.C. electrical generation, there has been a radical change in the position. The Thermal Power Station at Barauni now caters to the needs of large areas in North Bihar. All the towns of the district have electricity. In the rural areas, the Government is trying to extend electric line to the maximum number of villages by implementing various schemes for rural electrification.

1.7 Administrative set up

The district has 05 number of division, 18 blocks, having 231 panchayats with 1140 revenue villages to administer properly.
