Foreword

In response to Letter no. 1/7/DIP/2015/MSME-DI dated 20/05/2016 of O/o DC (MSME), M/o MSME, Govt. of India, the District Industrial Profiles of all 21 districts of North Bihar under the jurisdiction of the MSME- Development Institute, Muzaffarpur have been updated as per data available for latest years.

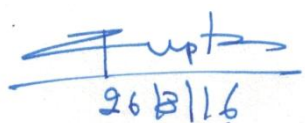

This report contains details of geographical information, topography, mineral and forest resources, industrial scenario, social infrastructure, supporting institutions, related statistical data and other information relating to MSME sector in the Sheohar district. The relevant data have been collected from various government agencies and other institutional sources.

I take this opportunity to appreciate the efforts put in by our officer, Shri Kumar Ashish, Assistant Director (E.I.), for updating the report.

I sincerely hope that this report will serve as a valuable guide to the entrepreneurs and will also be useful to other stakeholders.

Brief Industrial Profile of SHEOHAR District

1. General Characteristics of the District

History of the District

The district of Sheohar, which till the 1991 Census was a part of Sitamarhi district as one of its subdivisions, was elevated to the status of a district on 6th October, 1994 by the Government of Bihar vide its Notification No. 286. The district is situated in the northern part of Tirhut Division and lies on the extreme north region of the state of Bihar. It is surrounded on the north and east by the district of Sitamarhi, on the south by the district of Muzaffarpur and on the west by the district of Purba Champaran. It is the smallest district in the State of Bihar both in terms of size of population and total area of the district. The district has only one subdivision viz. Sheohar and five C.D. Blocks viz., Sheohar, Piprarhi, Purnahiya, Dumri Katsari and Tariyani Chowk. Sheohar is the only town in the district. There are altogether 53 panchayats comprising 203 villages in the district.

The geographical configuration and history of the district of Sheohar is very much in line with the history and geography of its parent district Sitamarhi. Before the reorganisation of the district, in post independent Bihar, the old district of Muzaffarpur was divided into three subdivisions with their headquarters at Muzaffarpur, Hajipur and Sitamarhi. The subdivisional headquarters of Sitamarhi was located at Sitamarhi town until 1935. The town of Sitamarhi faced one of the worst natural calamities in January, 1934 when it was rocked by a massive earthquake. The earthquake, which lasted for only one minute and a few seconds, had disastrous effects. Buildings were reduced to debris and fissures and depressions occurred all around. The roads of Sitamarhi were damaged extensively and the town was completely cut off for some time. Rail communication was dislocated and at many places railway lines were twisted and they lost the original alignment. The topography changed considerably and the town of Sitamarhi was so badly damaged that at one time it was feared that it would have to be abandoned as unsafe for rebuilding purposes. As a sequel to this havoc and apprehension, the subdivisional headquarters and courts were shifted to Dumra in 1936, five kilometres away from Sitamarhi town. Since then the subdivisional headquarters has continued at Dumra and even after the upgradation of the subdivision to the status of a district, the headquarters of the subdivision as well as the district is located at Dumra.

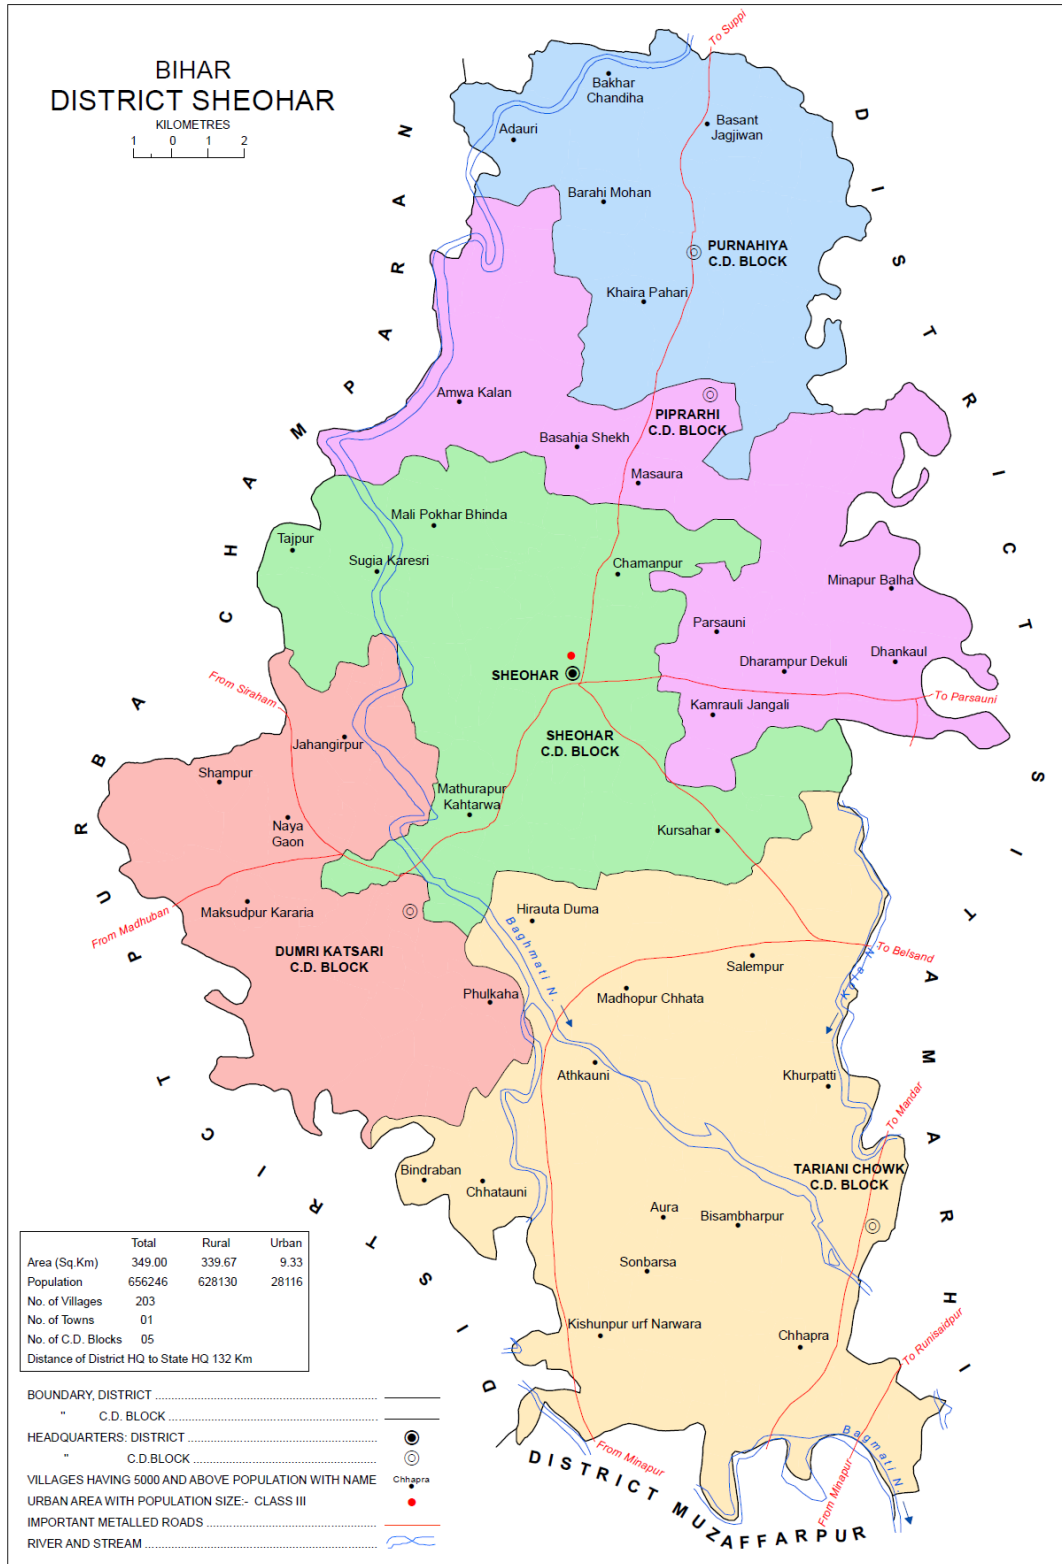

Sitamarhi is a sacred place in Hindu mythology. Tradition has it that Sita sprang to life out of an earthen pot while Raja Janak was ploughing his land somewhere near Sitamarhi town. A tank, called the Janaki-kund, is still pointed out as the place out of which she is said to have emerged. But Punaura, a village about five kilometres to south-west of Sitamarhi town, also stakes its claim as the birth place of Sita. The town, however, contains no relics of any archaeological interest. The temple of Janaki, i.e., Sita - the daughter of Raja Janak, is apparently modern and not more than 100 years old. It contains three stone figures with eyes of mother of pearl which represent Rama, Sita and Lakshman. The legend associated with the temple mentions, however, that it occupies an old site. It is said that Raja Janak excavated a tank at the place where Sita sprang to life and after her marriage set up the figures of Rama, Sita and Lakshman to mark the site. This tank is known as the Janaki-kund just to the south of the Janaki Mandir. In course of time, the land lapsed into a jungle until about 500 years ago, when a Hindu ascetic, named Birbal Das, came to know the site by divine inspiration where Sita was born. He came down from Ayodhya and cleared the jungle and found the images set up by Raja Janak. He built a temple over them and commenced worship of Janaki or Sita. The income of the temple is mainly derived from the offerings by the pilgrims. In the same compound there are three other temples of Hanuman, Mahadeo and Ganesh which are quite recent. The entire campus of these temples is popularly known as Janaki Asthan and is of great religious importance where hundreds of Hindu devotees go everyday and perform puja. Vivah Panchmi and Ram Navami, commemorating the marriage of Sita to Rama, and the birth of Ram respectively are celebrated at Sitamarhi every year. On these occasions people, mainly ladies from far and wide, throng Janakpur and Sitamarhi. On these two occasions the congregation is regaled with stories about the adventures of Rama who had conquered Lanka and killed the demon king Ravana. Religious dramas and dances depicting episodes from Rama's life, known as Ramalila, are organised.

1.1 Location & Geographical Area

Sheohar district is located on global map between 26°18' and 26°36' North latitude and 85°10' and 85°24' East longitude. The district occupies an area of 349 square kilometers. The rank of the district in comparison to other districts of Bihar in terms of area is 37th. The district is bounded in the east and north by the district of Sitamarhi, on the west by the district of Purba Champaran and on the south by the district of Muzaffarpur. Only 0.47 percent of the total area of the state of Bihar is covered by this district.

1.2 Topography

Natural divisions

The entire region is plain with a gentle slope from north to south. River Bagmati, along with its tributaries, flows through the western part of the region. The region has a gentle slope of 70 meters in the north to 59 meters in the south above the mean sea level. The height from mean sea level of Sheohar district is 189 to 201 meters. Average annual rainfall in the district is 1276 mm with 55 rainy days. Paddy, Wheat, Millets, Pulses and Sugarcane are the main crops of the area.

Rivers

The main River of the district is Bagmati.

Climatic conditions

There are three well marked seasons, Winter, Summer and the Rainy seasons. The cold weather begins in November and continues upto February, though March is also somewhat cool. Westerly winds and dust storms begin to blow in the second half of March and the temperature rises considerably. May is the hottest month when the temperature goes up to 40° C. Rains set in towards the middle of June. The rains continue till the end of September or middle of October. With the cessation of rains the temperature falls and the climate becomes rather pleasant. The rainy season is very useful for agriculture and fishery. The road communication between Muzaffarpur and Sheohar becomes disrupted due to flood during rainy season.

Land use Pattern

Agriculture is the main occupation of the people of the district and also the main source of livelihood of the people. Rainfall still controls the agricultural economy of Sheohar district. The main crops of the district are Paddy, Wheat and Khesari. Besides, Gram, Oil seeds and other pulses are also grown. Marua and Bhadaï paddy are two main Bhadaï crops. With Kharif and Rabi drives being launched every year by the Agriculture Department of the State Government, there has been perceptible improvement in land use, cropping pattern, scientific cultivation, use of improved seeds, chemical fertilizers and plant protection in the district. This has resulted in substantial overall increase in agricultural production and the district has become self sufficient in respect of rice.

Irrigational facilities

In matters of irrigation this district is still very backward. Cultivators have to make their own arrangements to irrigate their crops. A large number of private tube-wells, bamboo-boring tube wells and private diesel pump sets are available with the progressive cultivators of the district. The State Government has provided a few types of irrigational facilities for the cultivators of the district, which are:

- i. State Tube well

- ii. Minor Irrigation schemes
- iii. Bagmati Project

Fishery

As per fishery department records, there are 105 farmers who owned a pond, 337 small reservoirs which are spread over the districts and 232 village ponds. Local variety of fishes are reared in these resources. The rohu, naini, katla, tengra, buari, sauri and bausari are the big fish varieties found in the bigger rivers and lakes of the district.

Livestock

Livestock is very important in a district like Sheohar with a predominantly agricultural economy. In the district number of cattle is fairly high. The people of the area have not taken to poultry farming on large scale. No special fodder grass is grown on an extensive scale for feeding the cattle. Straw from paddy, wheat husk, leaves of maize and sugarcane provide for fodder. A number of veterinary hospitals and dispensaries including the artificial insemination centers are functioning at various places in the district for general welfare of the animals. Considerable attention has been paid to poultry development in different community development blocks in the district.

Communications

Roads - The district of Sheohar is well served by a network of roads. Road communication is the main mode of transportation in this district. The roads are classified as the National Highways, State Highways, Major district roads and other district roads. They are maintained by the Public works Department, the Rural Engineering Organisation, the Zila Parishad and Municipalities. It is also connected with the interior of the district by metalled road. One National Highway (NH) and One State Highway (SH) cross the district. NH- 104 passes through the district. SH-54 also passes through the district. All the Block headquarters of the district is connected by metalled road. However, during rains road communication is severely affected due to flood which damages the roads very badly.

Railways - Railways facilities are not available in the district.

Airway – Airways facilities are not available in the district.

Boats – Waterways facilities are not available in the district.

Trade and Commerce

The development of the means of communication has had a great impact on the trade and commerce of the district. The district may now be said to be fairly well- connected by Road. Sheohar is hub of the trade and commerce in the district. The trade consists of mainly export of oilseeds, gur, hides and vegetables. The principal imports are coal, cloth, kerosene oil, tea, timber, tobacco, spices, dried and fresh fruits, paper and other consumer goods. Modernization has also had an impact on choice of items. The district is covered with net-work of markets consisting of a number of permanent shops dealing mainly in grains and vegetables. In the rural areas haats (village markets) are held twice a week.

Electricity and Power

The district receives its entire power supply from Bihar State Electricity Board. All the towns of Sheohar district have electricity. In the rural areas, the Government is trying to extend electric line to the maximum number of villages by implementing various schemes for rural electrification. 87 Villages of the district are electrified.

1.3 Availability of Minerals

No mineral of any economic importance is found in the district.

1.4 Forest

There is no significant coverage of forest in the district.

1.5 Administrative Set up

Sheohar District is one of the thirty-eight districts of Bihar and Sheohar town is the administrative headquarters of this district. Sheohar district is a part of Tirhut Division. The Sheohar district has 1 sub-division, 5 blocks and 8 police stations. There are 53 Gram Panchayats and 1 Nagar Panchayat in the district. As per 2011 census, Sheohar district has 203 villages and 1 town. The district has a total of 1 assembly constituencies.
