FOREWORD

The Micro, Small and Medium Enterprises (MSME) sector has been recognized as an engine of growth all over the world. The major advantage of this sector in India is its employment potential at low capital cost. The labour employment in MSME sector is much higher than that of the large enterprises. The MSMEs constitute over 90% of total enterprises in most of the countries with the highest rate of employment growth and a major share of industrial production and exports. In India, MSMEs play a pivotal role in the overall growth of economy. With its agility and dynamism, the sector has shown admirable innovativeness and adaptability to survive in the recent economic recession.

Haryana has taken lead in terms of planned industrial and urban growth compared to neighbouring States, which has resulted in development of new industrial estates including product specific clusters close to the National Capital. The New Industrial Policy launched in August, 2015 of Haryana will boost the growth of MSMEs in the State and open new avenues for cluster development as well. It is hoped that the entrepreneurs will find this document useful for taking investment decisions, besides proving immensely helpful information to various agencies engaged in the promotion and development of MSMEs in the state.

I appreciate the efforts put in by Shri M K Verma, Assistant Director (IMT) in preparation of this document. I am also thankful to various government departments, industrial associations and other agencies for giving information and data for compiling this document. Some data has also been obtained from the websites of concerned departments.

1. General Characteristics of the District

Hisar district of Haryana was founded by Feroz Shah Tuglak in the year 1354. It was in these lands that the very first evidence of the presence of man was discovered with the excavation of Agroha, Banawali and Kunal. All of these were the pre-Harappan settlements, bringing for us the very first images of pre-Historic times. The presence of the pillar in Hisar fort belonging to the time of Emperor Ashoka (234 A.D.) originally from Agroha, the discovery of coins of the Kushan Kings tells tales of ancient India.

The construction work of the Hisar city was started in the year 1354 A.D. under the personal supervision of Firozshah himself who stayed here for a sufficient time. The boundary wall of Hisar Firoza was built up of stones brought from the hills of Narsai. The Fort city was also surrounded by big ditch dug round the wall. A large and deep tank was constructed inside the fort, and the water used to replenish the ditch. Inside the fort a fine palace, having a complex of different buildings was built. Well laid out gardens added to the beauty of the palace. The initial stage of the city, it was reported, was completed after the incessant work of two and a half years. The nobles and Amirs were also directed by the Sultan to get the residences built here. The buildings were constructed with lime and burnt bricks, it was made as an advance fort with four gaint gates popularly known as Nagori gate, Mori gate, Delhi gate & Talaqui gate. It is the oldest district carves at the time of joint Punjab. District Hisar is known as a city of steel as one of the biggest producer of stainless steel i.e. M/S Jindal Strips Ltd. Exist in the district. It is well known as agriculture. Products like cotton, rice, wheat and mustard. It has high potentiality of agro based industries.

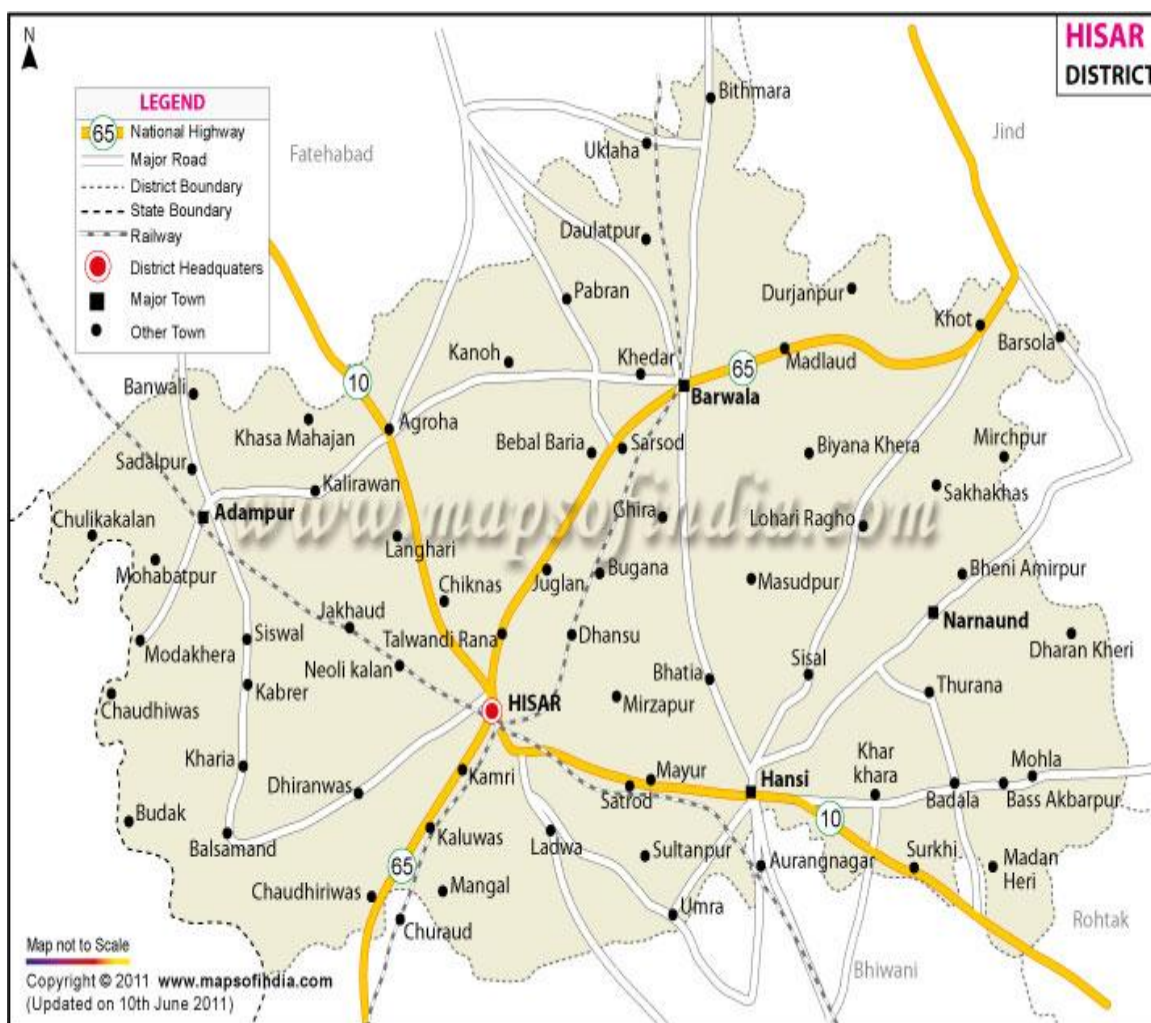

1.1 Location & Geographical Area

The district is located in south western part of Haryana state with geographical location between 28degree 59' & 27degree46' North Latitude and 75degree11' & 78degree18' East Longitude. It is surrounded by Fatahabad district in the North, Bhiwani district in South, Jind & Rohtak district in east and Rajsthan in the west. The geographical area of the district is 11% of the state.

1.2 Topography

Hisar district is an alluvial plain of indo-Gangetic basin. Except the western part of its Hansi & Hisar tehsils. There is no perennial river flowing through the district. Bhakra and western Yamuna are two main canals which irrigate most part of the district. Very hot summers and very cold winters. The maximum day temperature during the summer varies between 40 to 46 degree Celsius. During winter its ranges between 1.5 degree to 4 degree Celsius. The winds are strong and frequent during May to July. Normally the South Westerly current of summer monsoon brings the rains during July to September period. Intermittent dust storms are also common.

1.3 Availability of Minerals

District Hisar is not rich in mineral deposit, only two minerals i.e. saltpeter (potassium nitrate) & brick kiln are available in few pockets of area. There are 94 queries of saltpeter. Crude saltpeter is generally extracted in the village itself and after this crude saltpeter is taken to refinery where pure potassium nitrate is separated. There are about 200 brick kilns in the district.

1.4 Forests:

Total geographical area in the district is 4050 Sq.kms. out of this area under forest is 63 Sq.Kms. This contributes 1.52% of the total area as against the desired level of 2.3%. Although district Hisar is agriculture dominated district yet having nominal area in forest. Divisional forest office situated at Hisar provide technical knowhow and Haryana agricultural university also provides technical know how to the masses with the purpose to increase the forest area in the district.

1.5 Administrative set up.

Administratively the district is divided into 3 sub divisions, Hansi, Hisar and Barwala. There are 5 Tehsils namely Hansi, Narnaund, Hisar Adampur & Barwala. There are 3 sub-tehsils viz. Uklana mandi, Baas. There are nine blocks namely Adampur, Barwala, Baas, Hansi, Hisar-I, Hisar-II, Narnund, Agroha and Uklana. There are 275 inhabited villages in the district.
