Brief Industrial Profile of Udaipur

1. General Characteristics of the District

Udaipur is a royal city that had been the capital of Mewar rulers for centuries. The romantic city of Udaipur has a legend behind its origin and it goes like this. Once, Maharana Udai Singh happened to meet a holy sage when he was on his hunting expedition in the Aravalli Hills. The Sage counseled the King to establish a kingdom in the fertile valley that would be well-protected by the elevated Aravalli Hills. Subsequently, Maharana Udai Singh laid the foundation stone of Udaipur in 1557 A.D.

Chittorgarh was the previous capital of the Rajput kingdom of Mewar. Maharana Udai Singh was a successor of the Sisodias, who claimed to be the descendants of the Sun God. The Sisodias are believed to be the oldest ruling family in the World. Amongst the warrior clans, Sisodias are recognized as the most powerful ones in Rajasthan. Another reason for shifting the capital from Chittorgarh to Udaipur was constant attacks of enemies.

In 1568, Chittor was attacked by the Mughal emperor, Akbar and to ward off this danger, Udai Singh shifted the whole kingdom to Udaipur. Udaipur was naturally safe under the fortifications made by Aravalli Hills. Since that time, Udaipur developed into a full-fledged city. Slowly when the Mughal Empire undermined, the Sisodias reasserted their freedom. They recaptured most of the parts of Mewar with the exception of the Chittorgarh Fort.

Udaipur continued to be the capital of Mewar, till it became the princely state of British India in 1818. When India got independent in 1947, the Maharaja of Udaipur granted the place to the Government of India. At that time, Mewar was merged into the state of Rajasthan. In the present date, Udaipur enjoys a favorable position on the maps of Rajasthan. Udaipur is known for its picturesque surroundings and its royal past. Various ancient monuments, massive palaces, architectural temples and beautiful lakes fascinate people to visit the ancient land of the Royalty.

1.1 Location & Geographical Area

Udaipur District is situated at the southern tip of Rajasthan adjoining Gujarat and is oval in shape with very narrow strip stretching towards the north. It lies between 23.46' and 25.5' North latitudes and 73.9' and 74.35' east longitudes. It is bounded on the north by Rajasamand and Pali District, on the south by Dungarpur and Banswara, on the east by Bhilwara and Chittorgarh and on the west by Pali and Sirohi Districts and Sabarkantha District (Gujarat). The District covers an area of 13618 sq.km

1.2 Topography

The district is surrounded by Aravalli ranges from North to East. The North part of the district consists generally of elevated plateaus while the eastern part has vast stretches of fertile plains. The southern part is covered with rocks, Hills and dense Forest. There are two important passages in the Aravali ranges viz. Deshuri Nal and Saoke which serve as a link between Udaipur and Jodhpur District.

1.3 Availability of Minerals

Udaipur district is particularly rich in mineral resources as a large variety of important minerals are found in the districts. The important Metal and non-metallic found in the district are ore of copper, lead, zinc and silver. Among industrial minerals rock, phosphate, asbestos, calcite, lime stone, barites, emerald and marble etc. are important Talc (soap stone) is another important mineral is also found in the district.
