INDUSTRIAL PROFILE OF TUTICORIN DISTRICT

1. General Characteristics of the District

The etymology of the word “Thoothukudi” can be traced back to the period when the locals used to tap drinking water by digging small ponds (oothu in Tamil). Oothukudi, meaning to dig and drink, later came to be known as Thoothukudi. The district has a long and an illustrious history dating back to the Pandyan era. In the tenth century A.D. the region was conquered by the Cholas and re-conquered by the Pandyan kings. Subsequently, Thoothukudi was ruled by Madurai Nayaks, the Portuguese, the Dutch and finally the English. The English ruled Thoothukudi, which was a part of Tirunelveli District, till India’s Independence.

Thoothukudi district was carved out of the erstwhile Tirunelveli district on October 20, 1986. Thoothukudi was a major natural pearl fishing center till last century. It has one of the oldest ports in the world. The lighthouse built in 1842 marked the beginning of Thoothukudi’s harbor development. India independence struggle has strong links with Thoothukudi. Notable freedom fighters like Subramaniya Bharathi, V.O.Chidambaram Pillai, Vanchinathan and Veerapandia Kattabomman hailed from Thoothukudi. The district has also been the headquarters of prominent missionaries like G.U.Pope, Veeramamunivar and Caldwell, who besides their missionary work, also contributed to the development of Tamil language and literature. Thoothukudi was established as a Municipality in 1866 and on August 5, 2008 attained the status of Corporation after 142 years.

The minor port of the Thoothukudi anchorage port with lighter age facilities has had flourished traffic for over a century. The first wooden jetty of this port was commissioned in 1864. This port was being used for export of salt, cotton yarn, senna leaves, palmyrah stalks, palmyrah fibres, dry fish, country drugs etc. to neighboring countries and for import of coal, cotton, copra, pulses and grains. The minor port of the Thoothukudi handled the distinction of being intermediate port handling the highest traffic tonnage of over 1 million per annum.

1.1. Location & Geographical Area

Thoothukudi District is located in extreme Southern Parts of Tamil Nadu and it was carved out of Tirunelveli District on 20th October 1986. The district is located lies between 0.8 and 45 of the northern latitude and 78 and 11 of the eastern longitudes. The district is roughly triangular in shape and is bounded by Virudhunagar and Ramanathapuram districts in the north, Gulf of Mannar in the east and Tirunelveli District in south and west. The total geographical area of the district is 4621 sq. kms. and Constituting about 3.5 percent of the state. It has coastal line of 121 kms. The total geographical area of the district is 4, 63,601 Ha. River Thamirabarani passes through the district. The major basin is Thamirabarani.
