Brief Industrial Profile of Palwal District

1. General Characteristics of the District

Palwal is the 21st District of Haryana state in northern India which is created on 13.8.2008 after carved out from Distt Faridabad & Distt Nuh (Mewat). Palwal Town is the headquarters of this district. It is a place of great antiquity. Aryan traditions under the name of Apelava, part of the Pandav kingdom of Indraprastha, which was later restored by Vikramaditya. Its importance is mainly historical, but it is a centre for the cotton trade in the area. It is the site of a Hindu temple called “Panchwati” which is a great symbol of the region.

Its importance is mainly historical, but it is a centre for the cotton trade in the area. It is the site of a Hindu temple called “Panchwati” which is a great symbol of the region.

Mahatama Gandhi was arrested for the first time at the Palwal station. There are many hospitals in the city. It is a city of hospital, schools and engineering colleges. The places of interest are Panchwati Temple, an old fort which was constructed during the Mughal period, now in ruins Jama Masjid, which appears to date back to A.D. 1210, Idgah of Shihab-ud-din, built about A.D.1211 presently in ruins and occupied by Jawahar Gaushala and Tomb of Roshan Chiragh, which was dates back to A.D. 1661 and was constructed by the saint Roshan Chiragh, who levied a tax of one stone from every cartload that passed from Bharatpur to Delhi for building ShahJahan’s palace and with these the tomb was constructed

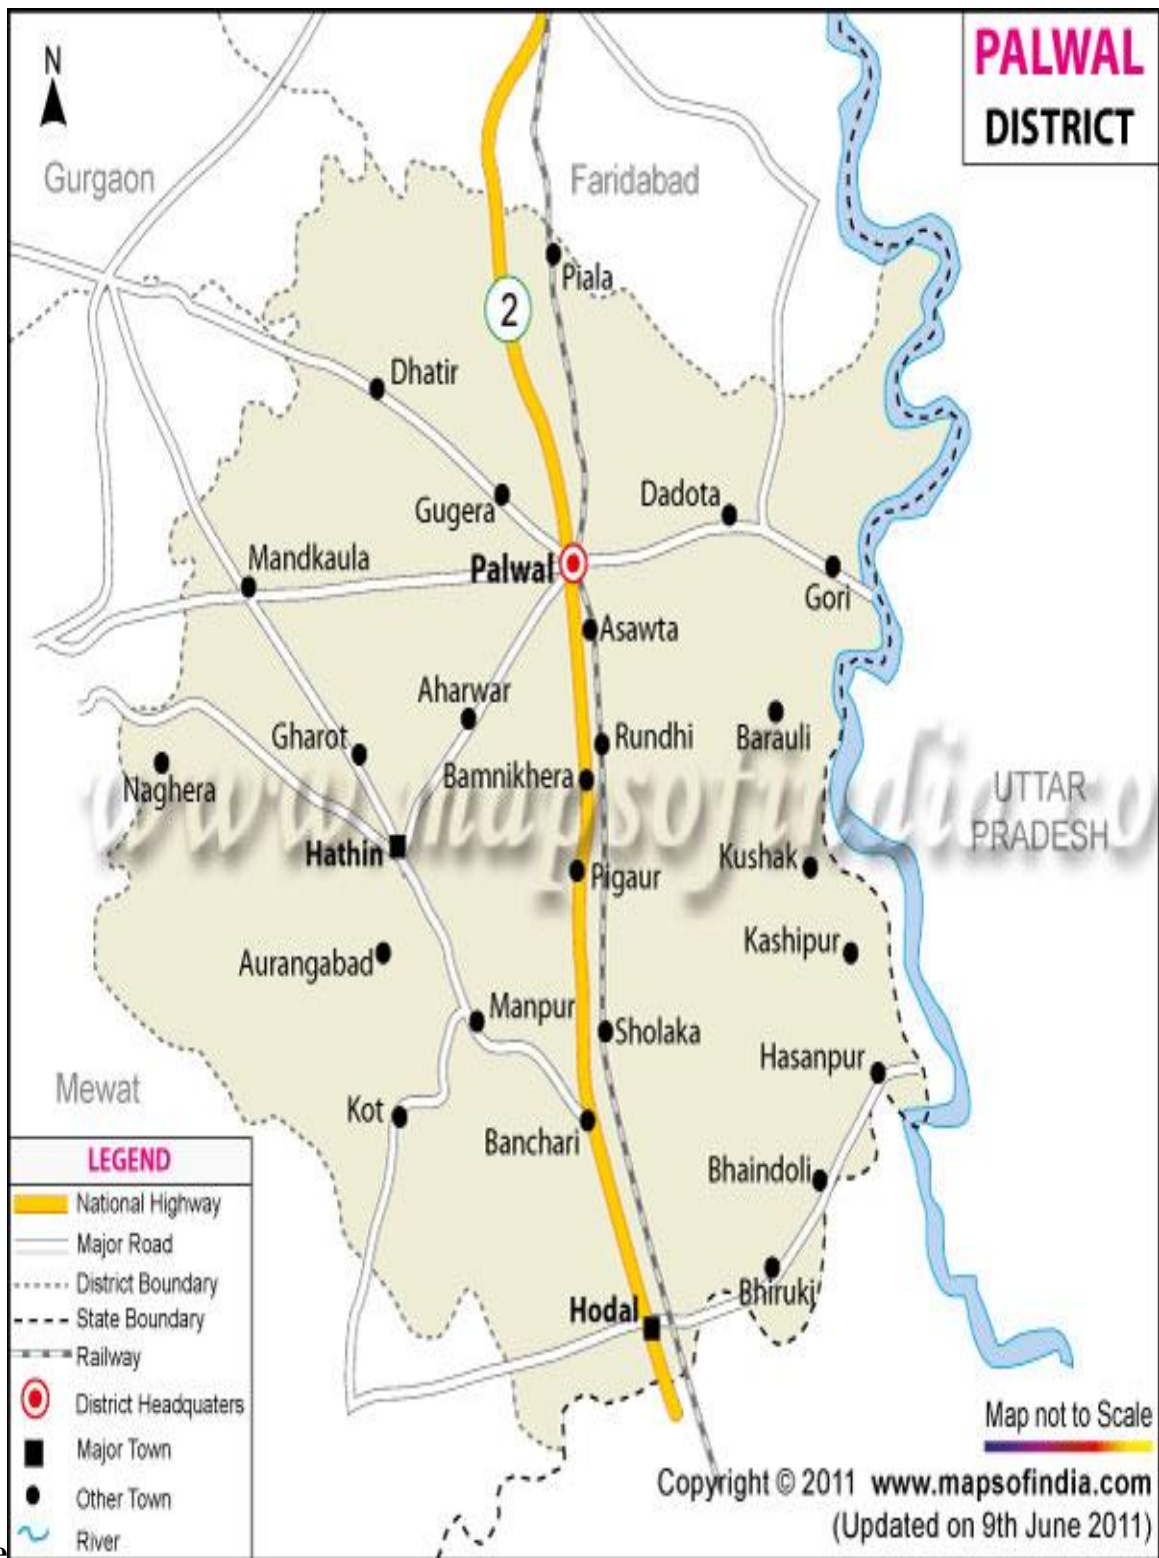

1.1 Location & Geographical Area.

1.3 Availability of Minerals.

The district is located on Delhi - Agra national highway. The district does not have any resources of mineral and therefore the production of any mineral does not arise.

1.4 FOREST

Forest Department is running two schemes namely a forestation and soil Conservation Land Reclamation. As per the National Forests Policy of MOEF, Govt. of India about 1/3 of the geographical area should be under tree cover. In order to achieve this objective various special project large scale plantation on community, Panchayat, Government and Private land were undertaken in last 20 years and saplings of Eucalypyus, Shisham, Neem and other fruit plant were distributed free of costs to farmers to plant in their field.

1.5 Administrative set up.

District comprises of 282 Villages, 237 Gram Panchayats, 1 Municipal Council, 2 Municipal Committee, 3 Sub Divisions, 4 Dev. Blocks and 3 Tehsils. Sub Division is under the control of sub Divisional Magistrate while each Dev. Block is under the control of Block Dev. & Panchayat Officer. All the blocks are well covered under Swarn Jayanti Gram Swarozgar Yojna and other developmental programmes. Developmental programmes are being looked after by the Additional Deputy Commissioner-cum Chief Executive Officer, DRDA Palwal. The district is under the over all charge of the Deputy Commissioner who is also the chairman of the District Rural Dev. Agency.

7. Additional Information (If Any)

Town Planning:- The Master Plan for Palwal suggests that the rail over bridge (ROB) on the Palwal-Aligarh crossing is in the final stage and the construction of the Kundli - Manesar-Palwal (KMP) Expressway has also begun. Palwal will have a big cargo for road, rail and air transport sources in the NCR Planning Board said that in view of the feasibility of setting up the transport hub in palwal, a survey for a dry port and freight corridor was conducted recently. The development of Palwal would take place in another five years as per the Master Plan 2021.

The 135 Km long Kundli – Manesaer - Palwal expressway project in Haryana is on track. The expressway, which is being developed by Haryana State Industrial Development Corporation, will be the longest in the country. The cost of the project is estimated at Rs 1,800 crore. The concession period of 23 years and 9 months was signed by HSIDC and KMP Expressways on January 30 this year. The project is likely to achieve financial closure within six months.

The expressway will intersect NH-1 near kundli (Sonapat), NH-10 near Bahadurgarh, NH-8 at Manesar (Gurgaon) and NH-2 near Palwal. Upon completion, the expressway will improve connectivity with New Delhi, provide faster access to the international airport in the capital and facilitate the development of a new economic corridor. It will also provide high- speed connectivity to north Haryana with its southern districts such as Sonapat, Jhajjar, Gurgaon and Faridabad.

The expressway will have world-class infrastructure such as parking lots, refilling stations, police stations, trauma centre, helipad, refreshment centres and recreational facilities. KMP also known as Western Peripheral Expressway.
