DISTRICT WISE MAP OF HARYANA

FOREWORD

The Micro, Small and Medium Enterprises (MSME) sector has been recognized as an engine of growth all over the world. The major advantage of this sector in India is its employment potential at low capital cost. The labour employment in MSME sector is much higher than that of the large enterprises. The MSMEs constitute over 90% of total enterprises in most of the countries with the highest rate of employment growth and a major share of industrial production and exports. In India, MSMEs play a pivotal role in the overall growth of economy. With its agility and dynamism, the sector has shown admirable innovativeness and adaptability to survive in the recent economic recession.

Haryana has taken lead in terms of planned industrial and urban growth compared to neighbouring States, which has resulted in development of new industrial estates including product specific clusters close to the National Capital. The New Industrial Policy launched in August, 2015 of Haryana will boost the growth of MSMEs in the State and open new avenues for cluster development as well. It is hoped that the entrepreneurs will find this document useful for taking investment decisions, besides proving immensely helpful information to various agencies engaged in the promotion and development of MSMEs in the state.

I appreciate the efforts put in by Shri M K Verma, Assistant Director (MT) in preparation of this document. I am also thankful to various government departments, industrial associations and other agencies for giving information and data for compiling this document. Some data has also been obtained from the websites of concerned departments.

CHAPTER - 1

History of Haryana & Brief Profile

A. History of Haryana

Haryana is the 20th state of India, came into existence on 1st November 1966 and presently has 21 districts. Previously it was under Punjab. It is situated in the North Western region surrounded by Himachal Pradesh from North, Uttarakhand from North East, Rajasthan from the South, U.P and Delhi from East and Punjab from North West. The largest district of Haryana is Bhiwani while Panchkula is the smallest district. Panchkula, along with Mohali and Chandigarh is called Tricity. The capital of Haryana is shared by its neighboring state Punjab and is Chandigarh, designed by Swiss born French architect, Le Corbusier.

Haryana is the region where, along the banks of the River Saraswati, the Vedic Civilization began and matured. It was here that the Vedas were written, as the Aryans chanted their sacred Mantras. Replete with myths and legends, Haryana's 5000 year old history is steeped in glory. It was here that Lord Krishna preached Bhagvad-Gita at the start of the battle of Mahabharat. It was on this soil that saint Ved Vyas wrote Mahabharat in Sanskrit. Before the Mahabharat war, a battle of ten kings took place in the Kurukshetra region in the Saraswati valley. But it was the Mahabharat War, approximately in 900 BC, which gave to the region worldwide fame. Mahabharat knows Haryana as Bahudhhanyaka, land of plentiful grains and Bahudhana, the land of immense riches. The word Haryana, occurs in a 1328 AD Sanskrit inscription kept in the Delhi Museum, which refers to the Haryana region as The heaven on earth.

Excavations of various archeological sites in Haryana, like Naurangabad and Mittathal in Bhiwani, Kunal in Fatehabad, Agroha near Hissar, RakhiGarhi (Rakhigarhi) in Jind, Sites in Rukhi (Rohtak) and Banawali in Sirsa have evidence of pre-Harappan and Harappan culture. Findings of pottery, sculpture and jewellery in sites at Pehowa, Kurukshetra, Tilpat and Panipat have proved the historicity of the Mahabharat war. These places are mentioned in the Mahabharat as Prithudaka (Pehowa), Tilprastha (Tilput), Panprastha (Panipat) and Sonprastha (Sonipat).

Haryana has been the scene of many wars because of it being "The Gateway of North India". As years rolled by, successive streams of Huns, Turks and the Afghans invaded India and decisive battles were fought on this land. After the downfall of the Gupta empire in the middle of 6th century AD north India was again split into several kingdoms. The Huns established their supremacy over the Punjab. It was after this period that one of the greatest King of ancient India, Harshvardhan began his rule. He became the King of Thanesar (Kurukshetra) in 606 AD, and later went on to rule the most of north India. In the 14th century, the Tomar kings led an army through this region to Delhi.

Later the Mughal, Babur, defeated the Lodhis in the first battle of Panipat in the year 1526. Another decisive battle was fought in Panipat in 1556, establishing the reign of the Mughals for centuries to come. Taking advantage of Humayun's death, Hemu had marched to Agra and Delhi and occupied it without difficulty. In response, Bairam Khan (Akbar's guardian) marched towards Delhi. Both the armies clashed in the second battle of Panipat. Hemu was in a winning position when a stray arrow struck him in the eye. He fell unconscious causing panic among his troops. The tide of the battle turned and the Mughals won the battle. Towards the middle of the 18th century, the Marathas had control over Haryana. The intrusion of Ahmed Shah Durrani in India culminated in the third battle of Panipat in 1761. Marathas' defeat in this battle marked the end of their ascendancy and the decline of the Mughal Empire, leading to the advent of the British rule.

In 1857, the people of Haryana joined the Indian leaders in the 1857 Revolt against the British Government. By the end of June, 1857, most of the present Haryana region was liberated from the British. But the British managed to put down the rebellion in November, 1857 by bringing in additional forces from outside the area. Haryana has four main geographical features.

1. Shivalik Hills: altitude varying between 900 to 2300 meters. These hills are the source of the rivers like Saraswati, Ghaggar, Tangri and Markanda. Parts of Panchkula, Ambala and Yamunanagar districts.

2. Ghaggar Yamuna Plain: Divided in 2 parts - the higher one is called 'Bangar' and the lower 'Khadar'. This alluvium plain is made up of sand, clay, silt and hard calcareous balls like gravel known locally as kankar.

3. Semi-desert sandy plain: This area includes the districts of Sirsa and parts of Hissar, Mahendergarh, Fatehbad, Bhiwani and shares border with Rajasthan.

4. Aravali hills: This is a dry irregular hilly area.

Rivers of Haryana: The Yamuna river flows along its eastern boundary. The ancient Saraswati river was thought to have flowed through Haryana but it has now disappeared. The river Ghaggar is its main seasonal river. It rises up in the outer Himalayas between the Yamuna and the Sutluj and enters Haryana near Pinjore, district Panchkula. Passing through Ambala and Hissar it reaches Bikaner in Rajasthan and runs a course of 290 miles before disappearing in the deserts of Rajasthan. The Markanda river's ancient name was Aruna. A seasonal stream like the Ghaggar, it originates from the lower Shivalik hills and enters Haryana near Ambala. During monsoons, this stream swells up into a raging torrent notorious for its devastating power. The surplus water is carried on to the Sanisal lake where the Markanda joins the Saraswati. An important tributary is the Tangri. The Sahibi originates in the Mewat hills near Jitgarh and Manoharpur in Rajasthan. Gathering volume from about a hundred tributaries, it reaches voluminous proportions, forming a broad stream around Alwar and Patan. On reaching Rohtak, it branches off into two smaller streams, finally reaching the outskirts of Delhi and flowing into the Yamuna. There are three other rivulets in and around the Mewat hills, Indori, Dohan and Kasavati and they all flow northwards from the south.

The growth in real Gross State Value Added (GSVA) was recorded as 7.0 percent during the year 2012-13. During 2013-14, the growth in GSVA fell down to 5.5 percent which may be mainly attributed to the low growth (2.8%) recorded in Industry Sector. In spite of negative growth of 0.7 percent recorded in Agriculture & Allied Sector and Low growth (5.9%) recorded in Industry Sector, the growth in GSVA in 2014-15 improved to 7.2 percent because of higher growth (11.5%) recorded in Services Sector. During 2015-16 in spite of low growth of 1.4 percent recorded in Agriculture & Allied Sector, the GSVA is expected to register the growth of 7.6 percent which is mainly due to the higher growth of 9.6 percent and 8.2 percent expected to be achieved in Services and Industry Sectors, respectively (Table 1.2)

Resources Available

A. Agricultural Resources

Haryana is located in the northwest part of the country and the climate is arid to semi-arid with average rainfall of 354.5 mm. Around -29% rainfall is received during the month from July to September and the remaining rainfall is received during Dec. to Feb. There are two agro climatic zones in the state. The north western part is suitable for Rice, Wheat, Vegetable and temperate fruits and the south western part is suitable for high quality agricultural produce, tropical fruits, exotic vegetables and herbal and medicinal plants.

The total geographical area of the state is 4.42 m ha, which is 1.4 % of the geographical area of the country. The cultivable area is 3.7 m ha, which is 84% of the geographical area of the state out of which 3.64 m ha i.e 98% is under cultivation. The gross cropped area of the state is 6.51m ha and net cropped area is 3.64 m ha with a cropping intensity of 184.91%. Haryana, with its rich cultural heritage, is a land of warriors and hardworking farmers. Mixed farming is a way of life and the State is known for its famous breeds of Murrah buffalo and Haryana cattle. Also the climate of Haryana is uniquely favorable for Basmati rice cultivation. About 2/3rd of the State has assured irrigation, most suited for rice-wheat production system, whereas rain fed lands (around 1/5th) are most suited for rapeseed & mustard, pearl millet, cluster bean cultivation, agro-forestry and arid-horticulture. The State is also ideally located nearer to National Capital Region (NCR) with access to a range of big markets and the international Airport. Rice, wheat, rapeseed & mustard, bajra, cotton and sugarcane are the major crops with considerable scope for agricultural diversification as well as off farm opportunities. Cauliflower, onion, potato, tomato, chillies, guava and 6 kinnow are the important horticultural crops having good potential. Allied sectors like dairying, poultry, fishery, arid-horticulture, mushroom farming, bee keeping, agro-forestry have great potential. The land and water resources are indeed valuable and the State is fortunate to have very good cultivable land with high cropping intensity, proper farm mechanization and progressive farming community, especially very hard working women farmers. Rich traditional knowledge and modern farming practices adopted by the farmers place Haryana State in an enviable position. The Government policies are pro-farmer and State has an efficient governance system to support farmers.

TECHNICAL EDUCATION

At the time of inception of Haryana as a separate State in 1966, there were only 6 Polytechnics(Government-4 and Government aided-2) and only one Regional Engineering College at Kurukshetra (joint venture of state Government and Government of India) with an annual intake of only 1,341 students. There is an exponential growth in the number of technical education institutions since then. The detail of technical education institutions alongwith intake capacity and admissions in academic session 2015-16 is given in below table.

These institutes are not only supplying skilled craftsmen to the industries but also generate avenues for self-employment.

147 Govt. Industrial Training Institutes with a seating capacity of 55,484 are working during the year 2015-16. Out of these, 33 Industrial Training Institutes are exclusively for women and in the remaining co-education ITIs, 30 percent of the total seats are reserved for girl's trainees in all trades. C. Fisheries Resources

The annual fish production in the State, which was 600 tons during the year 1966, has increased to 94 thousand tons in 2010-11. The fish productivity per hect per year has also increased to 5,500 kg in 2010-11 from 4,576 kg. Growth rate in fish production was 11.8% during the 11th Five Year Plan need to be further accelerated through proper policy and technology support. Currently, the Government has set up 20 Fish Health Care Centers, 14 Aquatic Polyclinics and one State level Diagnostic Laboratory. These facilities need to be strengthened in order to provide required seed, health care, feed services, research and human resource support to fish farmers. To ensure these, required policy and legal instruments shall be put in place. Water and electricity charges shall be rationalized at par with crop production. Policy on lease shall be revisited to ensure contract for longer period. Fish biodiversity conservation will also be addressed suitably. A College of Fisheries will be established at some suitable location to address human resource requirement. Diversification in fish species as well as area, including brackish water resources and infertile waste lands, will be promoted through proper R&D backup. Rural based low cost post harvest processing and value addition for diversified fish products will be ensured so as to enhance income of fish farmers in the State.

D. Horticulture Resources

Fruits, vegetables, flowers and mushrooms, including several types of medicinal mushrooms are important horticultural crops grown in Haryana which are in great demand nationally and internationally. Presently horticulture accounts for 6.4% of the total crop area in the State. Every effort is being made to achieve the target of 10%. The State has small acreage under spices, medicinal & aromatic plants also. The total area under fruits was 7.86 thousand hectare with a total production of 27.53 thousand tons and productivity of 3.5 tons per hectare during 1966-67, which had increased to 46.25 thousand hectare with a total production of 356.6 thousand tons and average productivity of 13.04 tons by the end of 2010-11. The total area under vegetables was 11.30 thousand hectare with a total production of 1,35.36 thousand tons and average productivity of 11.97 tons during 1966-67, which has increased to 465 thousand hectare with a total production of 4649.28 thousand tons with average productivity of 13.42 tons by the end of 2010-11. There was no flower cultivation in the State during 1966-67 but covered 6.3 thousand ha during 2010-11. Similarly, mushroom cultivation picked up during 1989-90 and by the end of 2010-11, production went up to the extent of 8 thousand tons with average productivity of 6.07 kilogram per tray and Haryana is now a leading mushroom producing State in the country. On the contrary, Haryana is a non-mushroom consuming State. Therefore exports of mushroom along with other types of medicinal mushrooms should be the future strategy. Cultivation of aromatic plants is also increasing due to higher returns. Changes in productivity of important horticultural crops over years are the reflections of good achievements so far. Under Horticulture Mission, efforts will be made to increase it further. Every effort will be made, using cutting edge technology to make horticulture a lucrative proposition for the farmers in Haryana. More emphasis will be placed on increased acreage under hybrids and adoption of protected cultivation in larger areas with soft loan facility. Research and development efforts will be reoriented to meet the need and expectations of farmers. Production of quality seeds and planting materials will receive high priority. Emphasis will be laid on developing management practices, use of plasticulture, fertigation and mulching for intensive commercial production of horticultural crops. New opportunities will be explored on arid horticulture technology including agro forestry systems particularly in Zone III and develop functional foods and nutraceuticals using fruits & vegetables and indigenous flora. Perennial fruits for agro horticulture and tree species for agro forestry, using micro irrigation, shall be promoted including raising of bees as pollinators for ensuring higher production of many crops. Hinter land orchards shall be protected from acquisition of land for residential/ commercial activities.

Some of the projects for horticulture development in the State are as under:-

Centre of Excellence for vegetables at Gharaunda, Karnal was established under Indo-Israel Project. Total cost of this project was 600 lakh. It was inaugurated on 17th January, 2011.

Centre of Excellence for fruits at Mangiana, Sirsa was established under Indo-Israel Project. Total cost of this project was 970 lakh. It was inaugurated on 21st May, 2013.

Centre for Sub-Tropical Fruits (CSTF), Ladwa (Kurukshetra) is to be set up at Government Garden & Nursery, Ladwa in district Kurukshetra and was announced in the year 2013-14. The total area under this project is 12 hectare (30 acre) and total cost of this project is ` 910.35 lakh.

E. Forest Resources

The geographical area of the state is 44212 sq. km which is 1.3% of India's geographical area. It is not bestowed with bounty of natural forests and only 3.9% of its geographical area is under notified forests. As per India State of Forest Report, FSI, 2011, the Forest Cover in the state is 1608 sq.km which is 3.64% of the state's geographical area and the Tree Cover in the state is 1395 sq. km which is 3.16% of the geographical area. Thus the Forest and Tree Cover of the Haryana state is 6.80% of its geographical area.

The forests in Haryana are classified as Reserve Forests, Protected Forests, Unclassed Forests, Areas closed U/S 38 of Indian Forest Act, 1927 and Areas closed U/S 4 & 5 of Punjab Land Preservation Act, 1900. Blocks of Reserve Forest areas are mainly confined to the Shivalik ranges in Panchkula and Yamunanagar districts. Small blocks of Reserved Forests are found at a number of places in the districts of Yamunanagar, Kaithal, Ambala, Jind and Hisar.

To promote sustainable development of forest resources in the State, Haryana Government framed its own Forest Policy in 2006. The policy has fixed the goal of achieving 20% Forest and Tree Cover in the state in a phased manner. This goal can be achieved by adopting Agroforestry practices. We are using genetically superior seedlings under Agro-forestry on farm lands to increase productivity. In fact Agroforestry should become a national mandate and a people's movement, as it is most economical, sustainable and stable alternative for ensuring ecological security of the country.

Great emphasis has been given to Agro-forestry and Farm-forestry. As a result, Tree Cover of the State has increased considerably over the years. Infact, Tree Cover outside recorded forest area is almost equivalent to Forest area of the State. While recorded forest area of the state is just 3.90% of its geographical area, total Forest and Tree cover of the State as per State of Forests Report, 2011, published by Forest Survey of India has become 6.80%. Poplar tree plantations dominate the Tree Cover in agricultural fields of Panchkula, Ambala and Yamunanagar districts. Eucalyptus, Shisham, Kikar, Jal and Jand tree plantations in Agricultural fields of central and south Haryana also account for a major portion of Forest & Tree Cover in the State. The total Forest area in the state as per the records of Forest Department is given in the table below:-

Forest Area of Haryana

S.No.	Type of Forest	Area (in Ha.)
1	Reserve Forest	24913.70
2	Protected Forest
	(a) Compact	34931.08
	(b) Strip	81209.44
	Total Protected Forest	116140.52
3	Unclassed Forests	979.94
4	Areas closed U/S 38 of IFA, 1927	1160.68

5	Areas closed U/S 4 & 5 of PLPA, 1900	29682.23
6	Others	3001.06
	Total Forest Area	175879.00

State of Haryana has very little scope for extending area under the regular Forests. The department is laying great emphasis on promoting Farm-forestry, Agro-forestry and a forestation of wasteland for increasing the Tree Cover.

F. Livestock Resources

Production of milk, eggs, wool and meat in the State has increased from 18 lac tons, 1567 lac, 8.14 lac kg and 28.79 lac kg in 1978-79 to 62.67 lac tons, 39641 lac, 12.87 lac kg and 125.27 lac kg in 2010-11, respectively. Special emphasis will be given to produce large numbers of progeny tested (proven) elite bulls of Murrah Buffalo and Haryana& Sahiwal breeds of cattle for genetic improvement. The contribution of milk from buffalo and cow, which is presently 83% and 17%, will be redesigned to ensure 70% and 30%, respectively, in view of the increasing demand of low fat milk in health conscious urban society. The coverage of AI in buffaloes and cows will be raised from the present around 50% to 90%, in next 5-7 years. Efficient veterinary services will be ensured by providing competent and trained veterinarian/paravet for every three thousand cattle units. A growth rate of 6-8% will be ensured in long term from the livestock sector in Haryana.

B. Potential Areas for Investment

Haryana is fast emerging as one of the most favoured investment destinations in India. The globalization of markets and a buoyant economy have given a tremendous impetus to the industrial sector in Haryana, which already has a competitive advantage in terms of strategic location, basic infrastructure as well as large skilled, educated and young workforce. Besides, the State has investor-friendly policy environment. However, Haryana is basically an agrarian economy, producing variety of food and cash crops, along with dairy products and fisheries. Based on raw material availability in the state and as per Vision Document for the Food Processing Sector in the state of Haryana 2013, the following have been identified as high processing potential segments:

- Wheat: Atta, Maida, Breads, Biscuits, Noodles, Pasta, Cakes etc

C. Institutional Support to Industries

Haryana is fast emerging as one of the most favoured investment destinations in India. The globalization of markets and a buoyant economy have given a tremendous impetus to the industrial sector in Haryana, which already has a competitive advantage in terms of strategic location, basic infrastructure as well as large skilled, educated and young workforce. H. Potential Industries in the State

The Haryana State Govt. has conducted detailed studies through Sectoral Committees and consultations to identify the competitive strength/advantages of the state given its geographical location, available resources and skill base, raw material availability, existing manufacturing practices and expertise and growth potential and sunrise areas offering new growth opportunities, vis a vis different sectors. Accordingly, the Haryana Govt. recognizes the following thrust areas, investment in which will be accorded a priority. These areas would include the following:-

i) Auto, Auto Components & Light Engineering

The automobile industry is an important sector for any state. The upstream and downstream supplier's opportunities have a great potential to boost the light engineering MSME sector too. Maruti Suzuki plants at Gurgaon and Manesar, Honda two wheeler plant at Manesar and Hero Motorcopr's motorcycle plant at Gurgaon/Dharuhera are the anchors which have facilitated the growth in the automobile and automobile components sector and would catalyze future growth too.

ii) Agriculture, Food Processing & Allied Industry

Haryana is predominantly an agricultural state with favourable weather conditions for both Rabi and Kharif crops. It has achieved self sustainability status in food production and milk products. Haryana the second largest food grains producer in the country. The state enjoys the locational advantage of its proximity to one of the largest consumer of agro based and food processing industry.

iii) Textiles/Apparel/Knitting/Embroidery

Haryana is fourth largest Cotton producer in the country, it contributes 6% of the total production of cotton in the country with a total of 5.57 lakh hectares under cotton cultivation during the year 2013-14 major cotton growing areas in the state are Hisar, Sirsa, Fatehabad and Jind.

iv) Footwear & Accessories

Special incentives have been provided to this sector like power tariff subsidy @ Rs.2/- per unit, interest subsidy @ 6%, investment subsidy on VAT @ 50%-75%, reduction in VAT on footwear above Rs.500/- refund of 80%-100% stamp duty and 50% exemption from EDC etc.

v) Electronics & IT/ITES

Haryana has robust IT software sector which will complement the electronics hardware manufacturing industry. Gurgaon is known as the BPM capital of the world, as it employs near 5% of the worldwide BPM workforce. Haryana is also the third largest exporter of software in India. Innovation campus is proposed to be developed in Gurgaon. To tap the available potential, the state would come out with an Electronics & IT policy within the next three months.

vi) Defence and Aerospace Manufacturing

The state will leverage GoI National Defence Production Policy increasing foreign direct investment (FDI) limit to 49% in the defence production sector for establishing industrial units in the state for production of defence equipments viz. weapons/ammunition/platforms and systems. The Haryana Govt. will offer land sites in the state which would be ideal for locating defence production industry in public and private sectors aligning with National Defence Production Policy. Special incentives have been proposed for creation of mega projects/mother units in aerospace and defence sectors at par with maximum incentives proposed for any sector and any category of industry.

vii) Renewable Energy & Solar Parks

The state of Haryana has large extents of land eminently suitable for non-conventional and renewable energy installations particularly Solar energy. The state has come out with a solar parks polity to support the development of the solar parks by the private sector under the SUN (Saur Urja Nivesh) initiatives of the HSIIDC and HPGCL proposed to develop a solar park for which an area of 300 acres has been identified.

viii) Pharmaceuticals & Chemical Industry
